Important Dates  36
Dear Mustang,

Welcome to Stevenson University. We know you had many choices for your college or university education, and we are delighted that you have selected Stevenson.

You will find that this is a great time to be a Mustang. We provide strong academic support for our students, we continue to invest in all of our facilities, and our athletic teams are expanding and doing well.

We also apply a lot of energy toward making sure that the entire Stevenson University community both shares and perpetuates our four values: promoting community, fostering learning, instilling integrity, and achieving excellence. These values comprise The Stevenson Way, and you will hear more about this concept throughout your SU career.

Stevenson is a special place made up of countless individuals who are dedicated to the success of each of our students. We are all here to help you do well. I offer you my best wishes as you begin your journey at Stevenson, and I look forward to seeing you on campus at many of our student activities.

Sincerely,

Claire E. Moore
Interim President

P.S. We are delighted and honored to welcome Elliot Hirshman, Ph.D., as the seventh president of Stevenson University, effective July 1, 2017. Elliot Hirshman brings a wealth of knowledge and experience in academic leadership, fundraising, and student life initiatives. He has dedicated his career to promoting higher education and is committed to the success of all students. We look forward to working with him and sharing his energy. I know he will be glad to meet you, our new students.
The core values of the University provide a foundation for faculty, staff, and students to fulfill the mission and achieve the vision of the institution. The values are focused on community, learning, integrity, and excellence.

Promoting a sense of community
The University embraces the common bonds and obligations within and beyond the campus while respecting individual and cultural differences.

Fostering learning
The University promotes the pursuit of theoretical and practical knowledge while encouraging a life well-lived—a lifelong philosophy of informed, critical thinking to meet evolving challenges and opportunities.

Instilling integrity
The University requires acting with dignity and honesty while adhering consistently to its ethical codes.

Achieving excellence
The University lauds superior performance while recognizing the importance of persistence toward goals.
Congratulations on your acceptance, and welcome to the Stevenson University community!

We look forward to seeing you for your Mustang Day in June. During this one-day program, you will interact with Stevenson students, faculty, and staff as well as your new classmates. This day is designed to help you learn everything you need to know as you prepare for your first year at Stevenson. You will leave with your fall class schedule, SUOne card (your Stevenson ID), knowledge about all campus services and resources, free Stevenson gear, and, most importantly, all of your questions answered.
Important RSVP Information

You are required to RSVP for a Mustang Day. To complete this process, go to stevenson.edu/mustangdays, click RSVP for Mustang Days, and enter your SU ID number.

• Attending your Mustang Day is vital to your academic success. However, if you cannot attend, please indicate this on the online RSVP form so that we can follow up with you.

• If you need to change your major, please do so on the online RSVP form and plan to attend on the day assigned to your new major.

• Family members are welcome and encouraged to attend. Due to space limitations, however, we ask that you bring no more than two family members. All guests will be provided with a full schedule at Mustang Days.

• If you have any difficulty logging in to the RSVP form, please email mustangdays@stevenson.edu.

Incoming Freshman Students

• The deadline for freshmen to RSVP is Wednesday, June 14.

• Mustang Days for incoming freshman students will be held during the weeks of June 19 and June 26.

• Available Mustang Days dates will vary depending on your major; please note that spots are limited on each day and that dates may fill quickly. You will see a list of available dates for your major when you go to RSVP.

Incoming Transfer Students

• The deadline for transfer students to RSVP is Tuesday, May 30.

• Mustang Days for incoming transfer students will be held during the week of June 5.

• Each major is assigned a particular day based on school. Please RSVP for the appropriate day based on your major.

• Connect with Orientation and Welcome Leaders (OWLs).
• Meet your Student Success Coach.

Family Highlights of the Day

• Meet your student’s Success Coach.
• Consult with Financial Aid, Student Accounts, and Tech Connection.
• Learn about campus resources (Campus Security, Wellness, and Career Services) and how to support your student during the first year.

Placement Testing

The University uses the College Board’s ACCUPLACER® placement tests, and requires this testing to further optimize students’ educational experience by determining their level of academic preparedness for college-level English and mathematics coursework.

Placement testing results determine the first English and mathematics courses students are eligible to enroll in at Stevenson, so it is important for students to demonstrate their best efforts and understanding by preparing for these exams in advance.

It is also strongly recommended that students who need placement testing complete these exams as early as possible and before their Mustang Day.
To learn more about placement testing requirements for English and mathematics, including potential testing exemptions, review study resources for ACCUPLACER®, and/or view the full schedule of placement testing dates and times starting this May, please visit stevenson.edu/placement or contact Philip Gillett at pgillett@stevenson.edu for further information.

International Student Advising
International student advising and assistance is offered through the Admissions Office in Garrison Hall. For more information, contact Jessica Kozera at 443-352-4403 or jkozera@stevenson.edu.

Orientation Adventures
The Orientation Adventures program is a three-day, early-move in, overnight experience that is designed to help you meet other first-year students, engage in The Stevenson Way, and get to know some of your Stevenson staff and faculty. In the past, new students rated Orientation Adventures as one of their favorite parts of becoming a Mustang. In addition to other on-campus activities and meals, adventures include:

- Multiple trips (Hershey Park, Ripley’s Believe It or Not, M&T Bank Stadium Tour, Orioles home game).
- All meals and snacks throughout the Orientation Adventures program.
- Two exclusive Stevenson t-shirts including a special shirt for the Orioles game.
- Transportation to and from all trips.
- Small-group experiences led by current Stevenson students who loved their orientation experience and want to make yours great, too.

As a result of participating in Orientation Adventures, students will:

- Get to know other incoming students and current students by participating in small and large group activities.
- Explore the Baltimore area and local attractions.

Space in the Orientation Adventures program is limited to 125 students. You may RSVP beginning June 1. For more information, visit stevenson.edu/orientationadventures.
New Student Orientation and Convocation

Beginning Thursday, Aug. 24, through Sunday, Aug. 27, New Student Orientation is a jam-packed, four-day program full of fun activities and important information for all new students. All incoming first-year students are automatically registered for New Student Orientation so you don’t have to do anything but show up! Whether you are a transfer or freshman student, or residential or commuter, we hope to see you there.

During the course of New Student Orientation, you will meet new friends, learn about campus services, and explore SU before classes begin on Monday, Aug. 28. You will receive more information about New Student Orientation this summer.

One of the highlighted events includes the Convocation ceremony on Aug. 24, which marks the formal beginning of the academic year. This ceremony is an event not to be missed by all new students and their families.
Office of Student Success

The Office of Student Success (OSS) is dedicated to the academic achievement, support, and engagement of all Stevenson University students. Located in Garrison Hall South, within the Center for Student Success, OSS provides a wide variety of academic programming, resources, and services to support your needs. OSS will consistently meet students where they are to develop and strengthen academic and professional skills that will promote a successful life of learning and accomplishment at Stevenson and beyond.

Academic Services Provided:

- Course planning and advising
- Pre-health professions advising
- Registration assistance
- Student support groups
- Academic support planning
- Student Success Coaching for all freshmen students
- Student Success Workshops (time management, study strategies, test preparation)
- Connection to campus resources

Stevenson University’s Academic Link, is designed to help students achieve success in their academic endeavors by offering an array of instructional services. You can meet with a peer or professional tutor for many of the classes offered here at Stevenson, receive reading and writing support, or take an exam in one of the Testing Centers. The Link works with students to help them develop the skills that are necessary to be successful at the college level.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

Stevenson University provides reasonable accommodations to qualified students with documented disabilities. To establish eligibility for services, students must register with the Office of Disability Services (ODS) and request the specific accommodations they require. Eligibility for accommodations is determined on an individualized basis, depending on the student’s documented need. To register for accommodations, students must:

1. Complete the Disability Services Intake Form;
2. Provide documentation of the disability that meets ODS’ Documentation Guidelines;
3. Schedule an intake interview with the Director, Disability Services.

Students can visit stevenson.edu/academics/academic-resources/disability-services to learn more. Students are encouraged to register with ODS as soon as possible to ensure timely provision of services. Disability-related records and documentation remain confidential and are not part of the student’s overall academic record. After receiving approval for accommodations from ODS, the student is responsible for requesting accommodation memos from ODS for their individual course instructors at the beginning of each semester.

Students who require an accommodation related to housing must contact ODS to obtain a housing accommodation documentation form that must be filled out by a qualified medical provider. To allow sufficient time to place students for medical reasons, the housing accommodation documentation form must be returned to ODS by July 1, 2017.
The Office of Academic Integrity builds a culture of integrity at Stevenson by fostering a learning environment that promotes the moral and ethical elements of a student’s intellectual, personal, and professional development in alignment with the University’s core values.

All new incoming students will be required to complete INT 100, Principles of Academic Integrity, a brief online course covering academic integrity. It is the University’s belief that by proactively engaging students in learning about academic integrity, the potential for academic misconduct will be reduced.

Career Services

The Office of Career Services provides you with a variety of career-focused programs, services, networking events, and resources to help you grow in your career path.

Start the Career Architecture℠ Process in Your First Year
Beginning with the First-Year Seminar, we introduce Stevenson’s distinctive Career Architecture℠ model. This powerful process continues throughout your years here at Stevenson, helping to increase your self-awareness, clarify your career direction, and prepare you for the competitive world of work. Schedule a time to meet with a career counselor your first year.

One-on-One Career Coaching
The Career Services staff coaches you to develop the skills, experiences, and confidence needed for success by offering expert advice and individualized attention. We also assist with resume development and reviews, internship and job search assistance, networking techniques, brand building, mock interviews, career assessment tools, career counseling, and/or graduate/professional school preparation.

Industry Specialists
Students within certain majors have specific career industry specialists who help connect you to employers within your industries of interest. In addition, our programs and events are customized to include employers who are specific to academic areas of study. Get to know your industry specialist beginning in your first year and continue to do so through graduation.

On-Campus Recruiting and Networking
You are strongly encouraged to participate in on-campus recruiting by interviewing... with employers, attending career seminars and workshops, networking at career fairs and other employer events, visiting employers at information sessions and tables, participating in etiquette seminars, and engaging in many other events to enhance your employability.

Handshake: Your Career Management Platform

Handshake is a comprehensive online recruiting system that provides information on job and internship opportunities, on-campus recruiting, employer information sessions, career fairs, and networking and career events. Upload your resume and other job search documents and opt in for employers to review your profile. Use your single sign-on to create an account at scc.stevenson.edu. CareerShift is another platform where you will be able to access additional job and internship resources to locate opportunities around the country.

Career Architecture
What is Career Architecture?

Career Architecture helps prepare students for the world of work from day one. With the support of our career experts and committed faculty, the Career Architecture process helps you to develop a personalized strategic plan based on motivated strengths, interests, values, and individual goals. Check out the Career Architecture 4-Year Checklist on the Career Services Portal and Handshake to chart your course.

Personal Direction

Career counselors and industry specialists meet individually with students and alumni to assist with career exploration, job and internship searches, and the development of a professional brand. Career assessments such as Traitify, Focus, the MBTI, the Strong, the Values Card Sort, The Motivated Skills Card Sort, and Dependable Strengths are delivered through the Office of Career Services. Determining your future starts with you—and knowing who you are at your very best—so that you can utilize your potential and experience more success.

Discipline Expertise

Experiential Learning builds upon classroom knowledge and theory by providing you with the opportunity to put your learning to work through internships, service-learning, research, on-campus employment, and part-time jobs. Internships are a great avenue to acquire hands-on discipline expertise while also benefiting from the knowledge of mentors during the experience. You can explore academic internships through your departmental major and consider paid, non-credit internships through the Office of Career Services. Explore internships and part-time jobs through Handshake, the SU online one-stop recruiting system. You should plan to start participating in internships as early as your sophomore year.

Professional Know-How

Developing a professional brand is essential in conducting any job search and managing your career. Students will have the opportunity to network with top executives, civic and government leaders, and hiring managers through programs such as the On-Campus Interview program, Career Fairs and Networking Symposia, Employer Information Sessions and Business Breakfasts, and the Service-Learning and Civic Engagement Conferences. Students also have an opportunity to network with alumni through events and LinkedIn. The very beginning of your senior year marks the start of your full-time career job search or application to graduate school.

Experiential Opportunities

Experiential Learning
Experiential learning involves a process of learning, doing, and reflecting and provides you with the opportunity to acquire first-hand experience. Experiential learning will empower you to connect ideas and experiences from a variety of contexts, synthesizing and transferring what you have learned in the classroom to situations beyond the classroom. As a Stevenson student, you are offered a variety of experiential learning opportunities, including internships, service-learning, undergraduate research, clinical experiences and practicums, as well as international and off-campus study.

Internships
This form of experiential learning is generally career or job-oriented. Internships are designed to provide you with practical, hands-on experience in relation to their academic field of study. Focused on the students’ career development, your internship(s) can last a semester or academic year.

Service-Learning
Service-learning is an intentional teaching and learning strategy that integrates meaningful service with academic instruction and reflection. Through service-learning, students, faculty, and community partners collaborate to address real-life needs, locally, and globally. Through service-learning courses, you will gain a deeper understanding of subject matter as well as complex social issues.
Service-learning allows you to become skilled in relating theory with practice while building connections with the community and enhancing your future employment opportunities.

Undergraduate Research
Undergraduate research provides an opportunity for students to conduct original, independent research in their academic field under the mentorship of Stevenson faculty or an off-campus mentor. Students apply the knowledge gained from course work to original research questions and hone their critical thinking, technical, and communication skills in the context of a professional research setting.

Many opportunities exist for students to engage in undergraduate research in many programs, including independent research courses, capstone research experiences, summer research experiences, work study, and research assistant positions. The Office of Sponsored Programs and Research also offers information on many off-campus and summer research opportunities.

International and Off-Campus Study
Stevenson University’s Office of International and Off-Campus Study offers transformational learning experiences that promote your social and intellectual growth while enhancing your cultural and global understanding. These international and domestic opportunities directly contribute to Stevenson’s mission. Some key features of our off-campus study experiences include:

- SU academic credit.
- Programs ranging from one week to one academic year.
- Faculty-led travel courses.
- Affiliate programs in 50 countries (including the U.S.).
- Internship and service-learning opportunities.
- Financial aid and scholarships.

Registrar’s Office

The Registrar’s Office oversees many academic functions for students, including the registration process for adding, dropping, and withdrawing from classes. Tuesday, Sept. 5 is an important date for students to remember as it is the last day that students can make a change to their fall schedule. Other important services and processes that the Registrar’s Office oversees include (1) assisting students with course planning and registration, (2) evaluating transcripts for current and transfer students, and (3) processing student graduation applications. The Registrar’s Office staff members love meeting students and encourage all Mustangs to drop by or contact us in any other way for assistance. The Registrar’s Office regularly communicates important information to students, so remember to check your University email account on a daily basis.

Veterans’ Services

The Registrar’s Office certifies enrollment with the Department of Veterans Affairs on behalf of eligible students claiming veterans’ benefits. Students who are eligible for these benefits should contact the Registrar’s Office as soon as possible. Stevenson University is also a proud participant in the Yellow Ribbon Program. Questions regarding veterans’ educational benefits or the Yellow Ribbon Program can be directed to the Registrar’s Office.
The Financial Aid Office at Stevenson University is here to help you through the process of funding your education.

Our website includes descriptions on the types of financial aid available, along with information about scholarships, grants, loans, and student employment. Visit stevenson.edu/finaid to find information on how to apply for financial aid, tips on completing the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid), policies and procedures, forms, federal and state aid, and FAQs. Other useful resources include the Financial Aid Handbook and the Financial Aid Award Guide.

In addition, you will find a number of short videos about various aspects of financial aid as well as how to manage your money, prevent identity theft, save money, repaying loans, and more. These videos can be useful in explaining financial aid in understandable terms.

If you have not yet applied for aid from Stevenson, you should see the step-by-step instructions under “Apply for Aid” posted on our Stevenson University Financial Aid website at stevenson.edu/finaid.

Maintaining Your Aid
Any kind of aid you receive includes certain requirements to remain eligible and to continue to receive the funds you have been awarded. You should review the information on the Financial Aid website, in the Financial Aid Handbook, and in your award letter and Financial Aid Award Guide to be sure you understand the requirements for your specific award(s) and any consequences should you not meet those requirements. Most awards require you to remain in good academic standing, including being enrolled in a specific number of hours and maintaining a minimum grade point average. Awards may vary based upon your housing status.

One requirement that can affect your aid almost immediately involves making changes to your schedule. Schedule changes can require an adjustment to your aid at the time you make the change and may cause you to have to repay funds.

You want to be careful:
• If you audit a class.
• If you add or drop a class or classes.
• If you withdraw from all your classes.
There are also regulations limiting the use of federal funds to pay for repeating a course(s).

Federal awards (Pell Grant, Direct and PLUS Loans, Work-Study) are need-based, and the amount of the awards is determined by the evaluation made when the FAFSA is processed. A FAFSA must be submitted each year, and awards may change from year to year if the financial circumstances change. The FAFSA is now available beginning Oct. 1 for completion and our priority deadline for completing the FAFSA each year is Feb. 15.

It would be helpful for you to regularly check your SU email, the SU Now Portal, facebook.com/steve.fin aid, and twitter.com/SUFinancialAid for scholarship announcements or “breaking news.” We will continue to communicate with you throughout the entire year, so please keep in touch.

SU WebXpress

If you have already received an award, you can review your account on WebXpress. If you received an estimated award letter you can go to WebXpress to see which documents must be submitted before your award can be placed on your account.

3. We’re easy to find and located on each campus. The Greenspring Library is in the Learning Resource Center, the Owings Mills Library is in the Brown School of Business and Leadership, and the Learning Commons is in the Manning Academic Center on Owings Mills North.

4. SU Librarians are experts and can help guide you through the research process and the world of information.

5. We’re mobile, just like you. Navigate to stevensonlibrary.org to access our electronic collections of articles, books, films, images, and more. We also have research guides to get you to the best databases and websites to meet your research needs.

6. If we don’t have what you need, we can help you find it and get it for free.

7. Your SUOne card is your passport to the library. It’s all you need to check out books and films or print and copy. Your SU Single Sign-On gives you access to library resources from anywhere in the world.

Be sure to check out the Learning Commons. It’s a great place to work creatively on your own or with a group. We look forward to seeing you at the library and helping you dive into information that intrigues, inspires, and challenges you.

The Office of Multicultural Experience serves as a resource for all students, faculty, and staff in an effort to increase cultural awareness and competence at Stevenson University. The office also strives to explore areas of interest; provide teachable moments; explore differences and similarities; bridge gaps for better understanding; and provide inclusive support to all students, faculty, and staff.

In order to achieve these goals, the Office of Multicultural Affairs:

- Conducts workshops, retreats, presentations, and seminars to develop awareness of other cultures and beliefs, contributing to positive dialogue on issues of diversity and inclusion.
- Collaborates with various campus constituencies to support the recruitment, retention, and success of all students.
- Works with faculty to establish academic, social, and cultural programs that will enrich the classroom experience.
- Creates events that highlight Stevenson University’s commitment to diversity and inclusion.
- Sponsors events that commemorate religious, spiritual, and national observances.

Stevenson University Diversity Statement

The University commits itself to diversity as it relates to awareness, education, and practice at every level of the organization. The University embraces people of all backgrounds, defined by, but not limited to, ethnicity, culture, race, gender, class, religion, nationality, sexual orientation, age, physical ability, learning styles, and political perspectives. The University believes its core values are strengthened when all of its individual members have voice and representation. The resulting inclusive organizational climate promotes the development of broad-minded members of the university who positively influence their local and global communities.

Technology Services

Tech Connection
Tech Connection is Stevenson’s technology Help Desk, offering free technology assistance to all students, faculty, and staff.

Technology Tips for New Students
Check the Office of Information Technology website at oit.stevensonuniversity.org for more details.

Wireless internet access is available in nearly all campus locations.

High-speed wired network access is available for students in the residence halls by use of an Ethernet cable. A “Resident Student Guide to Campus Technology” is available on oit.stevensonuniversity.org under FAQ #219.

Comcast cable TV service is available to students in the Residence Halls, but this service requires that your TV have a QAM or CLEAR QAM tuner. Additionally, the free XFinity OnCampus service allows resident students to stream live and on-demand content on all computer and mobile devices.

If you are planning to purchase a computer to bring to campus, PCs and Macs are both supported (desktop and laptop versions). Review your academic program requirements in your major course of study as well as your personal preference before making a purchase. Recommended minimum specifications for new computers are available at oit.stevensonuniversity.org.

Stevenson University offers a variety of software to purchase for your personal use at a significant educational discount over typical retailers. Stevenson recommends that you check the prices in the Software Store (found in the SUCloud) before making any software purchases for your computer.

Stevenson Single Sign-On
Your Single Sign-On account will give you access to your Stevenson email and many other SU web-based systems. As referenced throughout this book, your account is necessary to complete the health profile and First-Year Residential profile, provide access to the SU Now Portal, and submit roommate requests. In mid-May, freshman students who deposited by May 1 and transfer students who have confirmed to attend Mustang Days will receive an email to the personal email address on file with Admissions with instructions on how to activate their Single Sign-On and Stevenson email. This email will be sent from TechConnection. If you have trouble activating your account, please contact TechConnection for assistance before Mustang Days. TechConnection staff will also be on hand to provide help and answer questions at your Mustang Day.

SU Now Portal
The SU Now Portal (now.stevenson.edu) provides one-stop access to the internal information and resources that connect you with life at Stevenson University, including daily updates of campus news, announcements, and events.
Stevenson University Campus Security provides a safe environment for the entire University community. Security officers are first responders to emergencies, safety concerns, and lockouts. Services provided also include first aid, assistance with car trouble, delivering emergency messages, collecting lost property, and a safe escort service on all campuses. Campus security is available on the Greenspring campus during operating hours and 24 hours a day on both the Owings Mills and Owings Mills North campuses. Stevenson University facilities are protected by fire alarms, security alarms, and emergency telephones that are monitored 24 hours a day. All students are encouraged to sign up for SUAlert at stevenson.edu/about/campus-services/alert to receive texts directly to your cell phone/email of your choice in case of campus closings, weather delays, or other emergencies. Students can also OPT-IN to receive timely text messages about SU news, sports, student events, and information for resident students. Parents can OPT-IN as well.

Shuttle Service at Stevenson University is complimentary and takes students between the Owings Mills, Owings Mills North, and Greenspring campuses. A separate shuttle is also provided between the Owings Mills campus and the Owings Mills Metro Station. In addition, a shuttle is available once a month on Saturdays to take students to designated local businesses to give students the opportunity to go shopping. Shuttle service between campuses is available Monday through Friday (except during holidays) with a modified schedule on Saturdays. Service to the Owings Mills Metro Station is available on Saturdays and Sundays. For a copy of the complete shuttle schedule, see Campus Security and Parking at now.stevenson.edu.

The Campus Store: Greenspring is located on the lower level of the Manuszak Center on the Greenspring campus. Textbooks for traditional undergraduate course offerings are available only at this location.

The Campus Store: Owings Mills is located in the Boulevard Corporate Center, directly across from the Owings Mills Gymnasium. The Campus Store stocks textbooks for courses offered through the School of Graduate and Professional Studies.

Team Stores are located in the Mustang Stadium in the Owings Mills Gymnasium and are open during home games/special events. The stores offer a wide selection of Stevenson apparel, school supplies, electronics, and snacks to meet the needs of the student body.

The Mailroom is open Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m., and Saturday, 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Stamps, packaging products, and notary services are available. Sample campus mailing address:

Welcome to Stevenson—we are excited that you will be joining our community on campus. At Stevenson, we believe that students do not live or learn in a vacuum; they experience college life as a whole, and our office is committed to enhancing both their academic and personal success. To that end, our staff educates and empowers students to thrive in a culturally diverse, civically-engaged, holistic living-learning community while fostering student development and lifelong learning.

Just like there is a curriculum or syllabus in the classroom, a Residential Curriculum guides the learning that takes place in the residential community. The Residence Life professional staff identified key needs of Stevenson’s resident population and designed a curriculum to address those needs, as well as connect to the four core Stevenson Values. This curricular approach provides intentional learning opportunities for Stevenson residents. The educational priority of our Residential Curriculum is to complement the academic curriculum with a residential experience that encourages the pursuit of The Stevenson Way. We will do this by providing experiences and opportunities that support student development.

The Office of Residence Life at Stevenson utilizes the curriculum as a way to unite and educate our residents. Additionally, the curriculum is a way to streamline our involvement and efforts within the halls, as well as improving resident connections within their community and the greater campus community. The Residence Life staff has developed this curriculum to bring more meaning and purpose to Stevenson students’ on-campus living experience.

Residence Halls

Stevenson’s residence halls combine all the comfort and space of first-class accommodations with the community development and programming of residential living. The halls are comfortable, modern, and furnished; equipped with heating and air conditioning; and have laundry facilities and common spaces on each floor. They are a place where you can really feel at home.

Stevenson’s residence halls are all located on the Owings Mills campus. An intentional first-year community has been designed to assist students in their transition to Stevenson. All freshman students will be assigned to this community and live in two-room suites shared by four students. Each suite is comprised of two bedrooms accommodating two students each and one bathroom shared by all four residents. When you sign up for SUAlert text alerts, you can also OPT-OUT for timely text messages about SU news, sports, and student events as well as information for residential students. If you are a residential student, we encourage you to OPT-IN for residential alerts to stay informed of timely and helpful information for living on campus.

Amenities

Furniture: Each bedroom is furnished with a bed, desk, chair, dresser, and closet or wardrobe for each student.

Internet: High-speed internet connections are furnished in each bedroom through an Ethernet connection. In addition, wireless internet is widely available across campus.

Laundry: Every suite building has washers and dryers that are centrally located, and students activate service with use of the SUOne ID card. Use of laundry machines is included in the cost of student housing.

Micro-fridges: As suites do not have kitchens, one micro-fridge unit (a mini-freezer/mini-fridge/mini-microwave) is provided for each suite to share. In addition, meal plans are required for all residents in suite-style housing.

Cable: Cable service is provided to residents through Comcast.

Applying for Housing

Students interested in on-campus housing will need to complete the housing form that is included in their Admissions packet. Space is limited, and students are encouraged to commit to campus residency as soon as possible.

Once those students who will be living on campus have been identified, they will be asked to complete their First-Year Residential Profile using WebXpress.* All profiles must be completed by July 1. All students are asked to complete the profile information completely and honestly so that we can facilitate the best possible roommate pairing. Keep in mind that we need to know who you are now and not who you would like to be once you arrive to campus.

Requesting a Roommate

Students may request specific roommates by emailing roommate@stevenson.edu. You must send this email from your stevenson.edu email address to verify your student status and ensure you are the one making the request.* This email must contain each requested student's full name (nicknames will not be recognized by the system) and the student’s ID number. All requests must be mutual to be honored in the assignment process. All requests must be received by July 1.

*See page 25 for more about your Stevenson Single Sign-On account, which will give you access to your SU email address and many other SU web-based systems.
Housing Assignment Notification and Move-In

All room assignments will be made in mid-July after students have attended their assigned Mustang Days and completed their online profiles. Students will be paired in roommate groups using the profile each student has completed.

Each residential student will receive an email once placements have been completed detailing their housing assignment, roommate names and contact information, and initial information regarding moving into the residence. An additional mailing will be sent about 10 days prior to move-in with specific directions about what time and where you should arrive to campus on August 24, 2017. In order to ensure a smooth move-in process for all students, it is imperative that you read this information carefully and follow the instructions.

Disability Services/Special Needs

To request special housing accommodations for medical reasons, please contact Terri Massie-Burrell in the Office of Disability Services at 443-352-4920. You will need to send documentation from a medical professional stating the nature of your condition to support the request. All approved accommodations are made on a space available basis. All requests and supporting documentation must be submitted by July 1.

Wellness Center

The Wellness Center includes both Student Health Services and Counseling Services. The Wellness Center is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. and until 7 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Counseling Services. We give students the opportunity to explore issues that might interfere with their success and happiness in college. Counseling is confidential and provided free for all Stevenson University students by appointment.

Health Services. The Wellness Center offers limited primary care services by appointment with a nurse practitioner or physician. A minimal fee will be charged to the student’s account for services and supplies. Currently, we do not accept private health insurance.

The Peer Educator Program. Students have the opportunity to be supervised, mentored, and trained by a Nurse Practitioner in the Wellness Center. Peer educators provide programs focusing on comprehensive health and safety initiatives. Their goal is to actively promote student leadership on healthy and safe lifestyle decisions concerning alcohol/tobacco/illegal drug use, unhealthy sexual practices, and other high-risk behaviors.

Student Health Requirements

All full-time students (commuters and residential) are required to have the Student Health Profile completed with all records on file in the Wellness Center by July 1. The Student Health Profile can be accessed online at stevenson.medicatconnect.com using your SU Single Sign-On.* In addition to the immunizations required of all Stevenson students, all students living in Stevenson University residential housing are required to be immunized against meningococcal disease (MCV4). Stevenson University also requires first-year students, both residential and commuter, to complete the My Student Body Essentials Course: Alcohol, Drugs, and Sexual Violence by July 1 as part of the Student Health Profile. This program can be accessed at stevenson.medicatconnect.com under the “Education” tab. Failure to submit a completed Student Health Profile will block you from registering for future classes and/or lead to removal from housing. Copies of your immunization records and insurance card must be uploaded to your Student Health Profile in order for it to be complete.

All full-time students are required to complete the Student Health Profile regardless if they are turning in other health related records to other departments. Please refer to those specific departments for any health requirement questions.

Stevenson University participates in NCAA Division III as a member of the Middle Atlantic Conferences (MAC) with the exception of women’s and men’s ice hockey, which compete concurrently in the MAC and the United Collegiate Hockey Conference (UCHC), and women’s beach volleyball, which competes as an independent.

Those interested in participating on one of Stevenson’s 27 intercollegiate athletic teams should contact the head coach of that sport using the staff directory under the Inside Athletics tab at GoMustangSports.com. You can also find information on the paperwork required by athletic training and compliance information for transfers and first-year student athletes there as well.

Club Sports
Club sports have been established to promote and develop students’ interests and skills in a particular sport. They feature organized and competitive teams that will compete against other universities to enhance team members’ collegiate experience and provide a vehicle for a well-rounded education through physical, social, and leadership development. Club sports are open to all from the beginner to the advanced player.

The distinction between club sports and varsity teams is that the latter must follow NCAA and MAC rules and regulations. Some club sports teams allow walk-on tryouts while others recruit members. They are also different from intramural sports, which are competitive sports played at Stevenson among other SU students.

Intramural Sports
The Intramural Sports program is a part of the National Intramural-Recreational Sports Association and provides both competitive and non-competitive sports. The program is open to all students, faculty, and staff at Stevenson. Most sports offer three divisions: men’s, women’s, and co-rec (co-ed). Some of the popular activities offered include basketball, flag football, floor hockey, volleyball, indoor/outdoor soccer, and softball.

Facilities

Stevenson’s athletic facilities are among the best in Division III. To accommodate its growth and expansion, the University opened its Owings Mills campus in 2004. Two years later, it acquired the former headquarters and practice facility for both the NFL’s former Baltimore Colts and two-time Super Bowl champion Baltimore Ravens.

Caves Athletics Complex is a modern facility serving the needs of the University’s 800-plus student-athletes as well as the general student body. On-campus facilities include the Caves Sports and Wellness Center, Owings Mills Gymnasium, Mustang Stadium, and Beach Volleyball Courts.

There are three fitness centers available for student use, including two on the Owings Mills campus. The first is located in the Caves Sports and Wellness Center and the second is on the third floor of Mustang Stadium. The third fitness center is located on the Greenspring campus on the bottom floor of the Manuszak Student Union. To access each fitness center, students must have their SUOne cards.

Fitness Center Hours

Greenspring: Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m.-7 p.m., Friday 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Saturday/Sunday, Closed

Caves: Monday-Thursday, 7 a.m.-11 p.m., Friday 7 a.m.-8 p.m., Saturday/Sunday, Closed

Stadium: Monday-Thursday, 7 a.m.-midnight, Saturday/Sunday, 10 a.m.-midnight

When not in use for classes, games, practices or special events, the Owings Mills Gymnasium is also available for student use.

Tickets

While it is free for all students to attend any athletic event at Stevenson by showing their SUOne card, tickets are required for football. Tickets are available to the first 1,000 students beginning the Monday before each home game. To get a ticket, students must pick one up from Student Activities by showing their SUOne card.

Social Media

Stevenson University Athletics is on Twitter. Be the first to get our releases, in-game updates and schedule changes. Follow us at twitter.com/GoMustangSports or facebook.com/GoMustangSports. The Mustangs are also on Instagram (gomustangsports), YouTube (StevensonMustangs), and Snapchat (gomustangsports).
The Office of Student Activities stands to support the Stevenson University mission and values, and it contributes to the development of a student-centered community. Multiple experiences are provided for students to gain real-world skills and have a rewarding college experience.

Opportunities to get involved include:

• Joining one of more than 55 clubs and organizations on campus; develop into a leadership role within those groups.

• Advocating with Student Government Association, which gives students a chance to voice their opinion and make positive change on campus. SGA plans Homecoming events and holds monthly open meetings to address student concerns.

• Getting connected through facebook.com/StevensonUniversitySGA, twitter.com/StevensonSGA, or sga@stevenson.edu.

• Becoming a member of the Mustang Activities and Programming Board (MAP), who plan and implement events and activities for their peers: facebook.com/Mustang-Activities-and-Programming-Board-MAP-57039697973, twitter.com/MAPatSU, instagram.com/MAPatSU, or map@stevenson.edu

Commuter students are encouraged to get involved on campus by joining the Commuter Student Association facebook.com/StevensonCommuters.

Special events, social and club activities, meetings, and other events are scheduled for afternoons, evenings, and weekends.

All students, whether full-time or part-time, residential or commuter, are encouraged to participate in co-curricular experiences and University events. Social media is a great way to #beamustang here at Stevenson, and Student Activities wants you to connect early with your fellow Mustangs, even before you attend New Student Orientation (Aug. 24 through Aug. 27).
